2014 HIGHLIGHTS

Chesca Fights Cancer

At 5 years old, Chesca was diagnosed with a rare Stage 4 bone cancer. Maya's Hope provided for her treatment. Her arm reduced in size and she began to walk again.

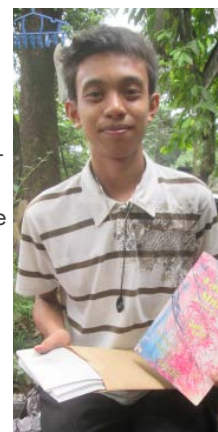

Margarita's Adoption

Margarita is 7 years old and a bedridden orphan. Thanks to Maya's Hope, she has been receiving formula, massage therapy and loving care. Margarita is going to be adopted in 2015.

A Lotus Blossoms

Jaylord is the first sponsored child in our program to attend a 4-year college in Manila, Philippines. He is majoring in accounting.

Dear Maya's Hope Supporters,

After four years, our cutie pies are shining and showing the world their true potential! Thanks to your support and our efforts, orphans with special needs in Ukraine are not only receiving loving care from caregivers, but some are also getting adopted! In the Philippines, 8 of our sponsor kids will be attending college in 2015!

Maya's Hope began by sponsoring impoverished children in the Philippines and, with the help of our generous supporters, we have expanded our program to include medically fragile children. Improving the health of our cutie pies is top priority! For the first time, Maya's Hope covered the medical treatment for a child with Stage Four cancer.

Thanks to you, friends and supporters, we are making miracles and giving our superstars a chance to succeed.

Each and every child we help in our program realizes his or her value because of you. Children who were extremely shy make videos for their sponsors and can say with confidence they are a "Maya's Hope Kid."

Thank you for believing in our cutie pies and allowing us to show off their immense gifts to the world.

UKRAINE

Maya's Hope improves the lives of orphans with special needs at 3 orphanages in Zaporozhye, Ukraine.

WHY UKRAINE?

- * Children born with Down Syndrome and other disabilities in Ukraine are considered a "curse" and parents are often encouraged to give up their children to state institutions.
- * The Ukrainian economy is on the verge of bankruptcy and cannot provide sufficient support to orphanages.
- * The most vulnerable are orphans, especially those with special needs. Many children die due to neglect and lack of proper medical care.

THE EFFECTS OF WAR

Since November 2013, Ukraine has been in political and economic turmoil, which has substantially impacted the orphans:

- There is less funding for state institutions.
- The currency has dropped 65% since the end of 2010. As a result, imports like fuel and food are 3 times more expensive.
- Crimea was annexed by Russia in March 2014, making orphans in that region ineligible for adoption to Americans.

Margarita A PRINCESS IN A UKRAINIAN ORPHANAGE

After being featured in Kate Blewett's BBC Documentary, "Ukraine's Forgotten," Margarita became an international superstar. She is a social orphan* whose life was condemned to a crib due to her multiple medical and developmental complications. In and out of the hospital, Margarita fought for her life daily. Maya's Hope came to her rescue and provided nutrition-rich formula, massage therapy, and medical care.

Although doctors in Ukraine considered her a "catastrophe," Margarita proved them wrong by showing her laugh and smiles, which can be seen in our videos. After her mother waived her parental rights, Maya's Hope worked hard to share Margarita and spread awareness. Finally in 2014, a family committed to Margarita and plans to bring her home to America in 2015.

*The term Social Orphan is often used to describe a child who has no adults looking after him or her, even though one or more parents are still alive.

A GUARDIAN ANGEL provide monthly sponsorship of the loving caregivers in the orphanages in the Ukraine.

THE AMERICAN DREAMER

We first met Sergey in 2010 and knew he was a superstar. He was bright, determined and a dreamer. Despite his surroundings living at an orphanage, he dreamed of having a mother and conquering the world. At the age of 16, his adoptive parents, Karen and Wesley Blake, brought him home to America.

He was sworn in as an American citizen in September 2014.

Sergey speaks fluent English, plays baseball, and loves school.

If there is one thing Sergey has taught us... it's that anything is possible if you just believe.

Sairel IS BLOSSOMING

Sairel is one of the original superstars of Maya's Hope. Maya first met Sairel in 2009. Thanks to Sairel's determination and her sponsors over the years, she is going to college in 2015. Sairel is proud to be a Maya's Hope Superstar and will be the first from her family to attend college.

3 WALKING MIRACLES

IGOR is one of our toughest little cutie pies. He has fought some of the greatest battles – including hydrocephalus, atrophy, and loneliness. Igor had a life saving surgery that was funded by Maya's Hope in June 2013. His caregiver, Artem, has taught him to walk and is now teaching him to run! This once sad and afraid little boy now has a contagious smile!

Believe it or not, little SASHA is 20 years old. He has spent most of his life in a crib. Having suffered severe neglect, he just didn't grow. Thanks to Maya's Hope, Sasha has been receiving massage therapy and can now stand on his own! He can even walk with assistance.

ARTEM has Cerebral Palsy which affects his ability to control his lower legs. He used to move around by dragging himself across the ground, getting filthy and degrading his skin. With the help of our massage therapist, Sasha, Artem can now walk using a cane!

TOYS TOYS TOYS!

Maya's Hope sends special needs toys and equipment from New York City to Ukraine. Fun and Function donated much needed toys!

A KIWI LANDS IN UKRAINE

By Keshia Melton

Once you have seen the inside of an institution, it is not something you can ever forget. Add in the sounds and smells and you have something that is carved into your brain forever. Even a "good" orphanage is no place for children to live. Unfortunately, for thousands and thousands of children in Ukraine, they have no other choice.

In July of 2014, Jenny and I were the first Maya's Hope volunteers to visit Ukraine. We visited the three institutions Maya's Hope provides support to. I saw firsthand what a difference loving caregivers and good nutrition can make in a child's life. The children in the Happy Homes would see their caregivers walking up the road towards them and would jump up and down with joy to see them. The caregivers encourage the children and believe in them. Simply put, they love them!

The work that Maya's Hope does is so important. All children deserve to be loved no matter where they were born or what disabilities they may have. I hope you can join us and continue to make a difference, one child at a time.

Keshia is a Registered Nurse in New Zealand. Sasha is her favorite cutie pie.

MASSAGE THERAPY FOR BEDRIDDEN ORPHANS

Sasha and Anzhela

Bedridden orphans in Ukraine are the most neglected. They don't receive enough physical interaction and their muscles became weak. Atrophy and loneliness paralyze them.

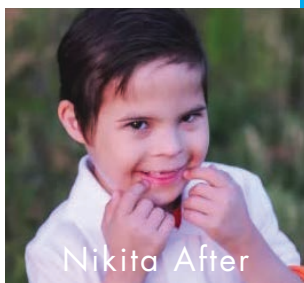

Maya's Hope introduced massage therapy to the bedridden orphans to improve their muscles, as well as their social skills.

The children love their therapist, Sasha! As a result of massage therapy, the children interact more, they sleep better, their muscles are looser and hurt less. Best of all, they know that someone loves them!

RUN IGOR RUN

Igor is a fighter. He has fought some of the greatest battles – including water in the brain (hydrocephalus), muscle loss (atrophy), and loneliness. Igor is determined and we're behind him every step of the way.

IGOR'S JOURNEY

- 2011 — Maya meets Igor at Kalinovka. He is bedridden and a grumpy gus. Igor could not walk.
- 2013 — Maya's Hope funded Igor's life-saving surgeries and hired Artem (an amazing caregiver) to rehabilitate Igor and care for other orphans.
- 2014 — Igor learns how to walk independently and smiles.
- 2015 — Igor will learn how to run with the help of Artem.

Igor is doing exceptionally well, not only physically, but socially. His communication skills have improved and his greatest asset is his smile. His smile wins over ... everyone. That's our Igor!

MORE WAITING CHILDREN

Vanya is just one of the many children with special needs still waiting to be adopted. He turned 13 in 2014. Vanya is a boy full of joy. We hope that 2015 will be the year he gets a family of his very own.

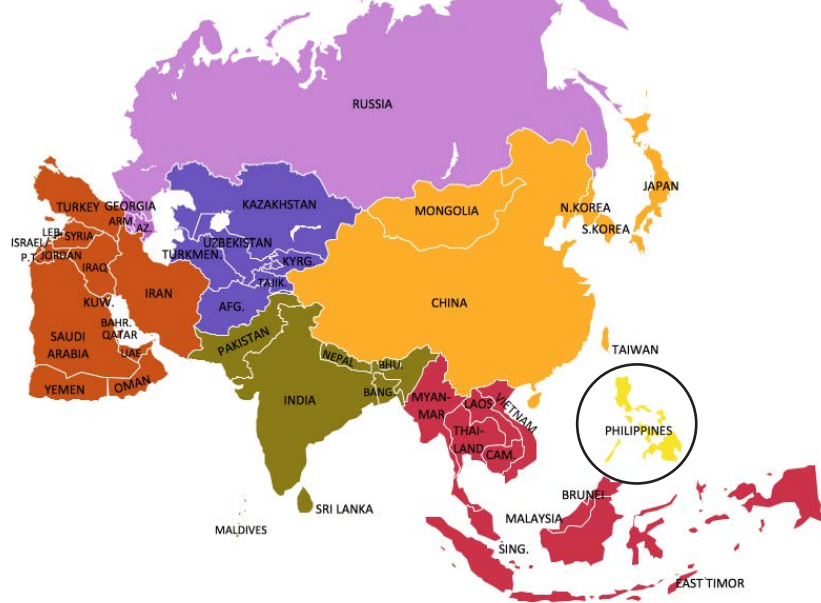

PHILIPPINES

Maya's Hope began with 5 sponsor kids in the Philippines. By 2014, we sponsored more than 100 children and expanded our reach to help children with special needs.

SUPERSTARS' SUCCESS!

Growing up in poverty in the Philippines often means no education or future. But with sponsorship over the years, Maya's Hope has given its children the opportunity to succeed.

MEET EUNICE!

Eunice Cheng Chua is the Executive Director at Bahay at Yaman ni San Martin and Centro Salvador. She is responsible for the superstars of Maya's Hope!

The Luck of Irish

Irish is deaf and mute, but that doesn't hold her back from following her dreams! Her last year of college was funded by Maya's Hope.

A Princess's Wish

By Maya Rowencak

One morning as I was checking my email, a photo of a little girl arrived in my inbox. She had a sparkle in her eye and the confidence and poise of a princess. But she had one striking feature that made me ask, "What is wrong with her arm?"

Chesca March 2014

Her arm was the size of a cantaloupe.

"Cancer," was the reply.

Her name is Chesca. She was just 5 years old and diagnosed with Stage Four Ewing's Sarcoma, a rare bone cancer.

Ewing's Sarcoma is the second most common type of bone cancer in children, but it is very rare. About 200 children and young adults are found to have Ewing's Sarcoma each year in the United States.

- About half of all Ewing's Sarcoma tumors occur in children and young adults between ages 10 and 20. (www.stjude.org/ewing-sarcoma)

In the United States, Chesca would get treatment, but in the Philippines, treatment is often denied if the family cannot afford the cost.

We had never had a child with cancer in our program at Maya's Hope.

I did not know what to expect, but I was determined to help. I saw a child who was suffering simply because her parents couldn't afford treatment.

As she met our criteria for sponsorship, we eagerly admitted her into our program. Maya's Hope became the sole financial sponsor for her medical treatment in the Philippines. Chesca faced a few obstacles in the beginning:

- She could not walk.
- The hospital was 3 hours each way.
- Her arm was so heavy that she often had to lie down.

With absolute determination, Chesca focused on being a princess.

She made one wish: to wear her princess dress again.

To face this battle, she went through 6 painful cycles of chemotherapy. She lost her appetite. She lost her hair. She never lost her hope.

Her dream of once again wearing her princess dress motivated her to get through the difficult treatments.

Sometimes she was too sick to make videos to share her journey, but when she was better, she smiled, sang songs, and showed the world that she had the courage of a princess.

After three months, her tumor had reduced to the point she could walk again. She was determined to wear her princess dress. With her birthday coming up on Christmas day, Maya's Hope sent two special Barbies from New York to her home in Pampanga, Philippines.

Cutie Pies WHO HAD SURGERY

Chesca after her fifth treatment of chemotherapy

She celebrated her 6th birthday with two special Barbies and finally wore her princess dress!

Chesca is still battling cancer but her arm has reduced to its smallest since August 2014. Chesca maintains a positive attitude and makes videos for Maya's Hope to thank everyone for helping her.

Chesca stands after months of laying down

Chesca has proven that wishes can come true if you wish for it with all your heart.

Chesca will still need ongoing medical treatment. If you like to help Chesca, please go to:

www.mayashope.org/donate

Thank you to all of Chesca's supporters.

John Kane

John Kane was born with Down Syndrome and an imperforate anus. When doctors refused surgery, Maya's Hope found a pediatric surgeon who performed two reconstructive surgeries.

Hermelina

For four years, Hermelina had a large bulge on her pelvis. During one of Maya's visits, her grandmother asked for help. Soon after, Hermelina had surgery to correct an inguinal hernia.

Khian

Khian was born with club feet and had an inguinal hernia. Each time surgery was scheduled, Khian was unable to be operated on because he fell ill. He was also hospitalized for pneumonia. We are hopeful that his surgery will in 2015.

Ericka

Ericka has a rare blood disorder. Maya's Hope funded the emergency surgery to remove her spleen.

Dancers from 26 Stars

More than 250 people joined us for our 3rd Annual Gala on November 18, 2014, at The Players Club in New York City. Christian Campbell, who served as the evening's MC, graciously sponsored the venue. Thanks to our many generous donors, including Aspire and Tocqueville Asset Management L.P., we were able to raise over $65K, which will go towards medical expenses, education and loving care for children who were once forgotten. A sincere thank you to Julia Moore, our Gala chair, the benefit committee and all of you who celebrated with us!

MEET OUR NEWEST Superstars

Mhia – The Beauty Queen
Apert Syndrome
11-year-old Mhia stays at home with her mother. She does not go to school and no one ever takes her picture. After being sponsored, she received monthly bags of goodies, and began to blossom. Now she smiles confidently in photos and calls up our fieldworker just to see if she received anything. Her sponsor, Sheryll, sent her a care package containing a Disney's FROZEN shirt, which made her feel extra special.

Apert Syndrome is a rare congenital disorder characterized by malformations of the skull, face, hands and feet. After Facebook stated that Mhia's picture violated its policy by referring to her image as "gory or gruesome," we created a Facebook page called, "Mhia is Beautiful." Since becoming a Maya's Hope superstar, Mhia realizes how special and beautiful she is.

John Kane – The Heartbreaker
Down Syndrome
John Kane is one of eight children and his family lives in the slums of Manila. Diagnosed with Down Syndrome, he was also born without an anus, with his intestines outside of his stomach. After Maya's Hope fundraised for his first surgery, doctors at a hospital in Manila, refused to perform surgery. Maya's Hope found a pediatric surgeon who performed the corrective surgeries and today, John Kane can't stop running around breaking girls' hearts.

Princess Diana – The Princess
Cerebral Palsy
While visiting two of her siblings, Maya discovered Princess Diana lying on cardboard. Alarmed by her malnourished condition, Maya added Princess to our sponsorship program. Today, she rests on a comfortable couch, receives formula and diapers regularly, and she smiles all day.

Ericka – The Singer
Thalassemia
Born with a rare blood disorder, Ericka had been receiving blood transfusions twice a month since she was 6 months old. During a medical check up, doctors in Manila discovered she required surgery to remove her spleen. To celebrate the success of surgery, we asked the 7 year old what she wanted for a gift. She replied, "A guitar." We asked her, "Why a guitar?" She replied, "So I can sing." So we sent her a princess guitar.

Lanz – The Scholar
Autism
Lanz was the first child with special needs in our program. He was extremely shy and refused to have his photo taken. We sent him to a private school for children with special needs. He excels at school and makes happy videos.

He can write his name perfectly, he loves to draw and he helps take care of his little brother.

Irish – The Teacher
Deaf & Mute
Irish dreams of becoming a teacher. In 2013, Irish's sister who was working to pay for Irish's tuition, died of lupus. Her mother could not afford to pay. During Maya's visit in 2014, Irish and her mother asked for help. Within a month, Maya's Hope was able to pay for Irish's tuition in full. She is one step closer to her dream of being a teacher.

Every donor is valuable to Maya's Hope. We apologize if we have omitted any name from this list.

MAYA'S HOPE 3RD ANNUAL GALA

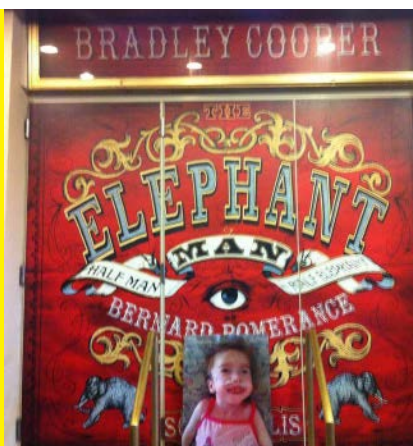

Maya's Hope 3rd
Annual Gala raised more than $65K!

Actress Kelly Rutherford shows her support of the cutie pies with Chairman of the Board, Michael Meltzer.

A SONG FOR CHESCA

Oscar-winning songwriter of Frozen, Kristen Anderson-Lopez and her daughter Katie Lopez made a video for Chesca while she was undergoing chemotherapy.

Bradley Cooper & Matthew Broderick Meet Margarita

When Maya ran around the city with a poster of Margarita to bring awareness to the cutie pies, actors, Bradley Cooper and Matthew Broderick signed her photo.

ONE WOMAN'S Compassion

Sr. Bernarda is the inspiration for the work of Maya's Hope in Ukraine.

92 years young,
Sr. Bernarda has been funding surgeries and sending care packages to orphans in Ukraine for more than 20 years.

In 2010, she guided Maya throughout Ukraine, to reveal orphans hidden away in institutions.

Sr. Bernarda is happy to know that her work continues through Maya's Hope.
